

LITTLE JOHN MELBOURNE CD LAUNCHES

NORTHCOTE SOCIAL CLUB, SAT 13TH NOV
PURE POP RECORDS, SUN 14TH NOV

Melbourne based four piece Little John are purveyors of country gospel. Folk with balls. A combination of angelic harmonies and old time sound of the American Folk tradition delivered with raw energy, grit and brawn. They are set to launch their debut album Put Your Hands On Me at Northcote Social Club on Sat 13th Nov with support from Clunkerfield and Roller One. Cost : $10 (no presales), doors open at 8.30pm. You can also catch them at their live instore at Pure Pop Records, St Kilda on Sun 14th Nov from 6pm - 8pm with support from Roller One.

Put Your Hands On Me was recorded mostly over a series of cold Saturday afternoons in a backyard studio based in Preston, Melbourne. The songs were then mixed and mastered under the experienced eye of Kramer whose credits include Low, Will Oldham, Jon Spencer, Daniel Johnston, and his expertise in the gothic/roots genre really shines through in this album.

The band is the brain child of singer/songwriter & harmonica player John Dickson. Formed in 2009 Little John also comprises of Brooke Penrose (double bass/vox), Damo Hooper (electric guitar), Bill Deeble (drums/backing vox), and Greg Field (mandolin/fiddle/backing vox). Some of these members will be recognized by Melbourne music lovers as part of the outfits Redfish and Saint Jude.

The sound of Little John is completely unique and captivating, evoking perhaps images of old American landscapes, with a twisted Australian rhetoric. The album consists of nine tracks which swings wildly between erratic guitar noise, shrieking vocals and driving swamp beats, to chain gang antiphony and haunting traditional melody.
