

GO-GO SAPIEN

THIS BODY IS WRONG FOR US CD & DVD RELEASE

Melbourne based Go-Go Sapien deliver an interplanetary sonic blast on their eleven track sophomore CD release This Body Is Wrong For Us and accompanying film DVD (out 4 November via Popboomerang). Their synthesized futuristic guitar pop derives from a wide range of influences including post punk, psych-rock, surf music and sci-fi film scores.

The recording includes an accompanying album length film, featuring a stellar cast of numerous Melbourne musicians in character roles (Kim Salmon, Liz Stringer, Dave Graney and Linda Dacio to name but a few). The film draws influence from the canon of classic sci-fi, schlock horror B-movies and surrealist art cinema. A national tour of live shows and film screenings is planned to follow, shortly after the release.

Go-Go Sapien incorporate a distinctive visual approach into their music making process. Their live performances are visually dynamic, energetic and theatrical - characteristically featuring outlandish matching uniforms and live film projections.

Formed in 2006 as The Great Apes, the band performed extensively in their hometown of Melbourne and released their independent debut album Merman in 2009 under the new moniker of Go-Go Sapien. The album received the prestigious NARNIE award for Best Australian Album of 2009 from 3RRR's Banana Lounge Broadcasting radio program. (Dave Graney & Elizabeth McCarthy) and enjoyed community airplay nationally.

Go-Go Sapien are a hard-working band having clocked up over one hundred live shows both in their hometown of Melbourne and interstate since their inception, and have shared stages with international and local rock 'n' roll luminaries such as The Soundtrack Of Our Lives (Sweden), Kim Salmon & The Surrealists, Even and Dave Graney & The Lurid Mist.

The band will encapsulate the critical and creative success of their first album with the follow up release This Body Is Wrong For Us and continue to expand their ever-growing national fan base.

This Body Is Wrong For Us CD & DVD film (out via Popboomerang) is available on 4 November at all good record shacks nationally.

"I predict that Go-Go Sapien will be some kind of huge act...They are GENIUS!" Dave Graney (Musician and Triple R FM Announcer)

Like The Pineapples From The Dawn Of Time, Go-Go Sapien have discovered a recipe for exploiting the humour within the psychedelic experience. And they do it walking upright. You can't create this shitit must be the product of evolution' Patrick Emery, Senior Writer, Beat Magazine, Melbourne.
