

THE TEALEAVES

~ SELF-TITLED CD ~

Hailing from Melbourne The Tealeaves have bottled the essence of new wave indie-folk into their self-titled debut album, due for release in February 2010 through Vitamin Records. Containing twelve emotive tracks that will linger within your subconscious long after you've heard them, they are an intimate, soulful and honest musical outfit.

The stand-out features of The Tealeaves are the mature song-writing, refreshing breadth of musical styles and perfectly blended harmonies adding depth and texture to their well-crafted melodic songs. Reminiscent of artists such as Cat Stevens, and Simon and Garfunkel, The Tealeaves are the perfect infusion for any day.

The outfit has achieved a lot in under a year, having already appeared at Queenscliff Music Festival to rave reviews, and are on the prestigious bill for the upcoming Port Fairy Folk Festival, 2010.

The Tealeaves are James Van Cuylenburg, Jess Wilson, Paul Davies, David Schmidt, Rochelle Bryson, David Prideaux and Jeremy Hopkins.

Keep an eye on your gig guides for The Tealeaves as they tour nationally in the upcoming months, to support the release of their debut album.

"...The Tealeaves, an explosion of smiles and deft musicianship, proved to be one of the sunniest bands at the festival and displayed a melodic expertise in each and every harmony-laden song."

Queenscliff Music Festival review in BEAT magazine, 2009

"...Masters of their humble craft." Andy Hazel, INPRESS Magazine, 2009

"...The Tealeaves shared with us the most gorgeously executed stuff." Carly Rae, Faster Louder
